

ALEXANDRIA, THREE COUPLES WED; JUNE BRIDES MANY

Farmer on Way to City Badly Gored by Angry Bull.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., JUNE 25.—This June bids fair to exceed all others in the number of its brides. Alexandria witnessed three marriages yesterday evening.

William H. Scott, a young business man, and Miss Lena May Craven, daughter of William L. Craven, were married at the parsonage of the Methodist Protestant Church by the Rev. Mr. Humphreys at 9 o'clock. The bride was attended by Miss Stella Myers, a maid of honor, while the groom had Noel Garner as his best man.

Arthur T. Brenner, a well-known Alexandrian, and Miss Virginia Brown, daughter of George Brown, were married at the rectory of Grace Protestant Episcopal Church by the Rev. Edgar Carpenter, the rectory, at 9:30 o'clock.

The marriage of Miss Elsie Roberts and William Burrell took place at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Alexandria county. The Rev. W. W. Van Arsdale, of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, officiated. After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Burrell left for Atlantic City.

Miss Bessie E. McClellan, of Seminary Hill, and Roland L. Walters, foreman at the Potomac yards, were married in Washington yesterday. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Walters left for the North on a wedding trip.

Thomas Hoy has sold to E. McK. Atchison his handsome three-story brick dwelling in North Washington street, near Cameron street. Mr. Hoy will shortly move his family to Washington, where he will reside in the future.

Scott Dillingham, a Fairfax county farmer, narrowly escaped being gored to death by a bull at his farm near Woodlawn, eight miles below this city, last evening. Mr. Dillingham was starting to take his wife and child to the city when the animal, evidently crazed by the heat, charged on him, knocking him down and cutting his face on the left side, narrowly escaping his eye. Mr. Dillingham managed to get to his feet and escaped from the animal.

At Alexandria Hospital it was said that Mr. Dillingham is resting comfortably today.

The bull was captured by farm hands.

The following jury has been summoned in the corporation court to try the case of Beat and others vs. S. S. Harper, S. A. Lindsey, Richard Acton, Alfred Thomson, M. L. Dinwiddie, F. T. King, J. F. Dyson, N. B. Baer, H. C. Griffith, H. Kirk, Jr., E. Warfield, Jr., and J. Brooke Carter.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary V. Travers will be held from St. Mary's Catholic Church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The funeral of the late Joseph Putnam will be held from his home, in Upper King street, near Pine street, tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The remains of Howard T. Thornton were today sent to Haymarket for burial.

James Wilkins, thirty-eight years of age, while attempting to board a freight train at the Potomac yards last evening fell and had his leg badly crushed. The injured member was later amputated below the knee.

TURIN ARCHBISHOP ESCAPES BOMB

TURIN, June 25.—An infernal machine aimed at Cardinal Agostino Richelmy, Archbishop of Turin, while he was celebrating pontifical mass in the cathedral yesterday in honor of the feast of St. John, narrowly missed its mark and caused great excitement and panic among the women, who were present in large numbers.

The congregation rushed to the doors, and in the stampede several were trampled and painfully injured. The Pope has telegraphed his congratulations to Cardinal Richelmy, who is the only one not known who perpetrated the deed.

ADOPTS A FAMILY TO GAIN CHARITY

NEW YORK, June 25.—Charles L. Van Fossen, general manager of River View Manor at Hastings-on-Hudson, was fooled into giving a man work the other day through a novel expedient.

Mr. Van Fossen lives at the Maplewood Inn at Dobbs Ferry. The other evening a big stranger, accompanied by a woman with a baby in her arms and five children, all ragged and unkempt, and accompanied by another woman as an interpreter, called on Mr. Van Fossen. The interpreter said the man had no work for six months, and that the family was desperate. The man, who was dressed in a ragged coat and trousers, and the woman and children followed suit.

Mr. Van Fossen gave them some money and told the man to report to the foreman in charge of his works in the morning. The next afternoon the foreman asked Mr. Van Fossen why the man was employed.

"Stung," said the foreman after he heard the story. "That man's family is in the old country and he is the best-known loafer in the whole community."

WASHINGTON MAN CAPTURES HONORS

Among the graduates of St. Charles College near Ellicott City, yesterday, was Francis J. Hurney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hurney, 1223 W. street northwest, and brother of Joseph A. Hurney, of the information bureau at Union Station.

Francis Joseph Hurney was president and honor man of his class, won the cash prize for the best essay on "Christian theology," was captain of the basketball team, and won many other scholastic and athletic distinctions in the institution. Mr. Hurney, a young man, was picked by Cardinal Gibbons to go to Rome to complete his studies for the priesthood, but because of the illness of his mother he asked to be relieved of the appointment.

Declares Husband Too Gay; Mrs. Morehouse Asks Divorce

Married, and with three children, yet posing as a widower in the city where his family resided, and becoming engaged to a minister's daughter, then eloping with a pretty girl employee and abducting his own daughter, securing a fraudulent divorce in a neighboring State, and embarking on a sea of matrimony with still another woman is the record of Wilbur A. Morehouse, as given by Mrs. Hattie P. Morehouse, of this city, who has just brought suit in the Supreme Court of the District for an absolute divorce.

A gay Lothario, she describes, flitting from place to place, winning and smashing hearts, and leaving in his wake a deserted wife and two children and a number of disillusioned. In the story which she tells to the court, she calls him cruel and heartless, and recites a tale of a wretched home.

Her name previous to her marriage was Hattie P. Walrath, and she wishes to again take that name, as well as to secure custody of her little girl, Viola, aged nine, who, she claims, was abducted. She was married to Morehouse in Dover, N. Y., in 1886, and for a long time resided in Massena, N. Y., later moving to Bedford, Pa.

There, according to Mrs. Morehouse, her husband was set up in the photograph business by her brother and he prospered, accumulating real estate and a bank account. On his advent to affluence she alleges that he became enamored of a pretty girl employee and that soon after the couple suddenly left town, but not until he had gathered together about $5,000 in cash.

For a time, she says, she lost sight of her husband, but recently discovered he was living at Gibsonburg, Ohio, with a woman whom he had married after procuring what she claims is a fraudulent divorce from an Iowa court. She declares also that for awhile the employee with whom he left Bedford was in his company in Gibsonburg.

R. W. Ivey is attorney for Mrs. Morehouse.

SOUTHERN SALARIES MAY NOT BE CUT

With Improved Conditions, Road May Continue Old Scale of Wages.

The proposed reduction in wages of Southern Railway employees, which was to go into effect on July 1, may not be made, according to authoritative reports.

When announcement was made last March that the wage scale would be reduced a strike was threatened. After numerous conferences between representatives of the road and its employees, Chairman Knapp, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Commissioner of Labor Neill, were called in as intermediaries, and it was decided to make no change until July 1. If, at that date, conditions of the company had not been bettered, the change was to be made.

Conferences held during the past few days have, it is said, developed the fact that conditions have vastly improved throughout the South, and it is understood that the time for continuing the old scale of wages has been reached. It is claimed that at the end of that time no change will be made.

SIX THOUGHT DEAD IN LAUNCH MISHAP

Small Boat Wrecked by Explosion, and All Passengers Are Missing.

ST. LOUIS, June 25.—At least a half dozen persons are believed to have lost their lives in the explosion of the gasoline launch Midget, near Carondelet. The wrecked launch was found on the river bank today, but there is no trace of John Krauser, the owner, or very party of friends he took on a fishing trip yesterday.

Residents along the river heard an explosion about midnight, but could not ascertain the cause. Krauser is missing from his home. It is not known how many were in the party, but he usually invited at least six friends.

FINDS LOST DOG, THEN WEDS OWNER

PITTSBURGH, June 25.—Miss Elizabeth Culbertson, of Wooster, Ohio, came here to visit relatives several months ago, and brought with her her beautiful sable and white Scotch collie, Monty. While here the dog was lost. Miss Culbertson was heartbroken. She declared she would do anything for any person who returned Monty.

Haldane T. Plante, a member of the fire department, found the dog, returned it to Miss Culbertson, head of her office, and he had over heels in love with her. He reminded her of her promise. Miss Culbertson was so pleased at seeing the little back and so grateful to Plante that she fell in love with him, too.

Two days ago they were married, and Monty was at the wedding.

SHADD FUNERAL TOMORROW

Funeral services for Dr. Furman J. Shadd, who died yesterday, will be held in his home, 901 R street northwest, tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Dr. Shadd was secretary and treasurer of the medical department of Howard University. For thirteen years he was resident physician of Freedman's Hospital. He leaves a wife, a son, Furman J., Jr., and two daughters.

COLORED VOTERS TO SUPPORT G. O. P.

Ralph Tyler Heads Committee to Advise National Chairman.

Talk of the defection of the negro voters from the ranks of the Republican party seems to have been founded on only a slight basis, according to developments here today.

Ralph Tyler, a colored Republican of Columbus, Ohio, and auditor for the navy in the Treasury Department, said today that he had been chosen chairman of a committee of seven prominent men in his race, which has been organized to confer with the chairman of the Republican National Committee as soon as he shall have been selected.

The colored committee's plan is to try to persuade the national committee to establish headquarters in Chicago which shall look after the colored vote exclusively. These headquarters, according to the present plan, will be separate and distinct from the other headquarters and be conducted by colored men throughout.

The men on the colored committee are chiefly from the middle West, where the negro vote is a big factor.

This development today shows that many of the negroes, if not all of them, will end by sticking to the Republican banner, in spite of the threats of the extreme southern group of Democrats. The men on the colored committee are chiefly from the middle West, where the negro vote is a big factor.

Everett was a native of New York and Wakely was a graduate of the University of Chicago.

AMERICANS SLAIN ON NEGROS ISLAND

MANILA, June 25.—News has been received here from the Island of Negros of the murder of H. D. Everett, a Government forester; T. H. Wakely, a school teacher, and four Filipinos by the natives.

The party has been missing for six weeks. They started to cross the Island of Negros, one of the least civilized of the extreme southern group of islands, and were attacked by the tribesmen.

Everett was a native of New York and Wakely was a graduate of the University of Chicago.

MOTHER AND THE GIRLS.

There is a mother in Atchison with three daughters, whom she has "done well." The mother is pretty and very attractive. The daughters are very plain without any charm of manner. While they were still young, the mother invited eligible young men to the house, and saw that the young men had a good time. The young girls were kept pretty well in the background, and the pretty, young looking mother did most of the entertaining, and always had delightful hot suppers. When the young men went home, they realized only one thing; they had had a good time. They did not know who had given it to them. The house was a nice place to go, that was all they knew. Before the plain, unattractive girls were married, the house was a place where a rich husband and a handsome home of her own. Every one wondered how on earth those uninteresting and homely girls got such fine husbands. There was only one person who knew how it was done, and she won't tell. Mother.—Atchison Globe.

Washington Woman Makes Speech Before Club Meeting in Boston

BOSTON, June 25.—"Pure food" was debated at today's session of the convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs by the 1,700 delegates and alternates, while the thousands of visitors began another day of sightseeing.

Dr. Charles Harrington, of the Massachusetts State board of health, spoke on "Local Meat Inspection." Mrs. Mary Himmann Abel, of Baltimore, delivered an address on "Clean Food," and Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, of Boston, on "Sanitation in Daily Life." Mrs. Walter McNab Miller, of Columbia, Mo., chairman of the pure-food committee, submitted a report. Other addresses were delivered, one by Miss Helen Varick, of New York, on "Conditions in the Canal Zone;" Mrs. W. W. Penfield, of New York, on "Methods and Factors in Civic Work;" Miss Sadie American, of Washington, on "Play and Playgrounds," and by Howard Walker, of Boston, on "Municipal Art."

There was no session this afternoon as Governor and Mrs. Curtis Guild, Jr., received the delegates and other visitors at the State house.

The literature session last evening resulted in the bringing into prominence a little-known almost unknown American poet, Mrs. Clifford Dargen, of South Carolina, who read a poem prepared for the occasion "An ode to woman." Mrs. Dargen was hailed by Thomas Nelson Page as a "real American poet."

EXCURSIONS.

Week-end stays at the Chamberlin Hotel, Old Point Comfort, passage via the Norfolk and Washington boats, are among the most alluring and economical outings extant presented by the management of this company. To those whose affairs and means proscribe more protracted vacations these excursions make a special appeal. Low rate tickets covering all steamer expenses, including meals and accommodations for one or two days at the Chamberlin are on sale every week, Fridays and Saturdays. Leaving Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock, one has two days at Old Point, returning to town Monday morning in ample time for business. The Saturday-to-Monday ticket allows one day at the Chamberlin, the Saturday-to-Tuesday ticket, two days there. Reduced rate Saturday-to-Monday round trip tickets to Old Point and Norfolk are on sale as usual, this summer. There are two ticket offices, one at Seventh street wharf, the other at 754 Fourteenth street.

Not the least enjoyable portion of a trip to Chevy Chase Lake is the ride over the cool countryside on the speeding electric, the breezes bringing comfort and pleasure to those who have sweated from the heat of the city all day. Cars are run with such frequency and regularity that there is never any inconvenience or discomfort in reaching the lake or returning from it. Once at the resort one may follow his own inclinations as to amusements, for they are numerous. Dancing in the great pavilion attracts many, while the Marine Band concerts provide treats for the musically inclined. Motion pictures, swings, bowling, and shooting command a good deal of attention every evening. The unique illuminations make Chevy Chase Lake one of the most attractive of the city's suburban resorts.

River View, the excursion resort in Maryland, about twelve miles below this city, is an ideal spot at which to spend a day away from the noise and heat of the city. The steamer Queen Anne is now making regular daily trips to the resort, leaving at 10 a. m., 2:15 and 4:15 p. m., week days, and at 10 a. m., 2:30 and 4:15 p. m., Sundays. Dancing and music in the big cool pavilion are features of the week days at the View. Sacred concerts on Sunday take the place of dancing.

The steamer St. Johns, of the Washington and Potomac Steamboat Company, will be in service Saturday evening to transport visitors to Colonial Beach, the Atlantic City of Washington, which is rapidly filling up with summer visitors. The St. Johns will sail from this city Saturday evening at 5:15 o'clock and again on Sunday morning at 8:45 o'clock. These week-end trips afford an opportunity to spend over twenty-four hours where the salt-laden air fills the lungs. Those who go to the beach on the Saturday evening trip will find all the hotels open, and at the big Colonial Beach Hotel they are assured the best of service. Those who go on the Sunday day trip will have several hours to enjoy the pleasures of the resort and to have a fine salt-water bath or to go boating, crabbing, or fishing. On the return trip the steamer will reach home about 10:30 o'clock Sunday night. Lunches and a la carte meals are served on the steamer. Stops are made at Alexandria going and returning.

NOT FAIR.

"Look here, Abraham," said the judge. "It's been proved right here in court that instead of doing something to help your wife and an' children, you spend your whole time hunting 'possums."

The old negro hung his head.

"Now, Abe, you love your wife, don't you?"

"Ah, suitin' does!"

"And your children?"

"Yas, suh!"

"And you love them both better—"

"Better 'ev'ry day, judge!" Abe broke in.

"—Better than a thousand 'possums!"

"Look yiah, judge," exclaimed Abe, with a sudden change of tone, "dat's takin' a con at a pow'ful disadvantage!"—The Boston Herald.

WEDDED ON STAGE WHERE LOVE BEGAN

Miss Emilie L. Lohmayer and George L. Storm Married in Saengerbund Hall.

An original affair in the history of the Saengerbund was the wedding in the auditorium of the society club rooms, last night, of George L. Storm, a young Washington business man, and an enthusiastic member of the society, and Miss Emilie L. Lohmayer, also of this city. It is the first wedding ever held in the Saengerbund's hall.

Their troth was plighted upon the stage of the auditorium in the presence of a large number of friends and invited guests, the ceremony being performed on the self-same spot upon which the young people had sung together and Cupid had gotten in his fateful work. The stage was banked with palms, cut flowers and overhanging wreaths, converting it into a miniature chapel.

Prof. Henry Xander, musical director of the Saengerbund, played the wedding march and the Rev. Dr. H. Schroeder performed the ceremony. Almost every member of the Saengerbund present advanced and implanted a kiss upon the lips of the blushing bride, while many of the fair sex claimed the same privilege as regarded the bridegroom. Following the congratulations, an informal banquet was given.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Harry Lohmayer, Benjamin B. Porter, of Baltimore, was best man. Miss Emily Storm, maid of honor, and Miss Mary Lohmayer, bridesmaid. The ushers were Harry Minister, Charles O. Storm, J. P. Redeker, J. P. Kuttner, and G. H. Beck.

"I heard him behind the door pleading for just one. They must be engaged."

"Now, they're married. It was a dollar he was pleading for!"—Exchange.
